

Kennedy Wilson Releases 2023 Environmental, Social, and Governance (ESG) Report

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Global real estate investment company Kennedy Wilson (NYSE:KW) has released its 2023 Environmental, Social, and Governance (ESG) Report. The report underscores Kennedy Wilson's efforts to strengthen the foundations of the company's ESG program focused on delivering long-term social, environmental, and economic value across the portfolio and to key stakeholders.

"The sixth iteration of the annual report outlines a practical and thoughtful ESG program uniquely tailored to Kennedy Wilson's business model, with the flexibility and transparency to meet the needs of our many stakeholders," said William McMorrow, Chairman and CEO of Kennedy Wilson. "I am pleased with the continued progress in our ESG journey, and incredibly proud of our humble and talented teams for working to deliver value to our shareholders and partners while doing what is right for our communities and for the environment."

As discussed in the 2023 report, Kennedy Wilson continues to enhance its ESG leadership, and as a testament to the collective focus on corporate social responsibility, the company was recognized in Newsweek's Excellence 1000 Index, which highlights organizations that display a commitment to business and financial growth as well as broader contributions to social responsibility and sustainability.

"2023 was another year of strong progress in our ESG program as we continued to focus on our goals of strengthening our ESG infrastructure while making an immediate impact on reducing Kennedy Wilson's current environmental footprint," said Peter Collins, Global Sustainability Officer of Kennedy Wilson. "As the importance of climate resilience continues to move up the agenda, we look forward to advancing our initiatives that we expect will reduce operational costs, help our teams manage climate risk, lower our carbon footprint, and add value to our global portfolio."
